Why Advertise With Us

Reach Your Audience

Kathryn
Yarborough

Advertising in On Purpose Woman Magazine will get you and your business in front of all kinds of women. Currently, the magazine goes directly to over 9,000 people via email and, through social media, the magazine has an additional potential online reach of over 600,000.

A Community Behind the Magazine

There is a long-standing community that supports this magazine. In 2000, entrepreneur, Ginny Robertson launched the On Purpose Woman Community offering heart-centered opportunities for women to connect in the Baltimore-Washington area. Three years later, the magazine grew out of that community.

Ginny published On Purpose Woman Magazine for 13 years. During that time, the magazine made a huge impact on the community. She took a two-year break from publishing starting in 2016. During that break, many women reached out to tell her they missed the magazine.

Ginny has teamed up with entrepreneur Kathryn Yarborough to offer On Purpose Woman Magazine in digital format. While the magazine continues to give Maryland area brick and mortar businesses a place to advertise, our magazine is now read by women across the United States and around the globe.
